HISTORY OF THE STAR BAR: It is believed that sometime in the 1870's the Star Hotel and Livery was constructed. One of the original owners was Benjamin Vanderbilt. The "Star" housed a saloon downstairs and a hotel upstairs. It accommodated travelers on horseback who stayed for $1.00 a day. The upstairs still shows evidence of the use with numbers above the doors. Rumor has it that an occasional stay at the Star Livery & Hotel by Jesse James was also not unusual.

The Chicago and Northwestern train, which rumbles through Fairfax brought business to the Hotel throughout the years. Operated as a Bar and Restaurant since the early 1930's it is known to be the longest running "BUD" bar west of the Mississippi. The "Star" had several name changes throughout the years – among them "Boland's Tavern" and "Charlie's". Current Owners Travis and Melissa Otto are proud to be doing business in Fairfax.
